

WHITE PAPER

BNB INU.

INTRODUCTION

Cryptocurrencies have become popular throughout the world and a lot of investors that saw the potential very early have enjoyed profits beyond their wildest dreams. Crypto has elevated ordinary people to the status of millionaires, and millionaires to the status of billionaires and we're just getting started.

Blockchain technology has made decentralized finance a dream come true. Decentralized Finance, or Defi has unveiled the true essence of crypto and has put the power of wealth in the hands of the people. Locking up the world's money in centralized vaults controlled by 1% of 1% of the world's population will reduce drastically because of DeFi.

The good news is that crypto has great potential and most coins are still in their early stages of development. However, we're seeing a growing number of individual and institutional investors enter the blockchain industry.
